The stated goal of the residency is to create cross-border/cross disciplinary engagements through creative endeavors.

Overview of the Jerusalem International Fellows Program the Jerusalem International Fellows Program was an overwhelming success.

The overwhelming number of significant relationships that were created by the artists, beyond those they made within their host organizations, far surpassed expectations

The View from the Outside: Input and Comments from Funders, Guests and Jerusalem Cultural Stakeholders

"The Jerusalem Fellows program was a shot of B12 for every person who participated-artist, host, guests, viewers. It was a doppler effect of creativity radiating out into the city."

these expectations should already be addressed in the application process.

Programming, Observations and Areas for Future Consideration

Timing of the residency

Expectations

Financials

although told in advance multiple time make the budget extremely clear to all parties, including guidelines for petty cash and reimbursements,

Per diem

needs to look at other residencies if there is a trend towards providing stipends for the period of the residency

Audience

who is the audience and how best to reach out to engage them

East Jerusalem Participation

Outreach has to start well in advance of the next residency in order to foster relationships
