JERUSALEM INTERNATIONAL FELLOWS

Dear <<First Name>>,

I hope you've had a lovely weekend. I would like to share some wonderful words sent in a note from Vibha Galhotra, JIFellow '22:

"I miss Jerusalem. I must say Jerusalem has blessed me with something special.. it has changed me in many ways, which people meeting me notice. I wish to be there again..."

What is it about this crazy city??

In the midst of bombings and shootings, Vibha also wrote: "Sad is the world but we still need to produce flowers." And so we continue on our mission - bringing artists to East and West Jerusalem to work with creative communities, share international networks,

Our intention is to go back in spring 2024. The Advisory board expects to identify the Host Organizations early in the coming New Year and then begin inviting nominations from around the world. The new cycle is beginning!

Would you be able to make a year-end donation to help make the next residency as successful as this past one?

My recent visit to Jerusalem:

I had an incredible trip to Jerusalem last month. My mission was to meet with a growing group of potential Host Organizations to talk about the 2024 residency. As always happens there. I was bowled over by the energy, intensity, dedication and bravery of the people leading organizations in Jerusalem. People like Tareq Nasser at Sindila, Matar Israeli at Muslala, Sawsan Khalif at the YMCA, Leehi Shulov at Artists Studios, and Raed Said - an extraordinary percussionist whose organization, Jerusalem Gates (forward the video to about 4 minutes in...) is bringing extraordinary Middle Eastern music to the public. And so many more.

Ruth Cummings, our devoted Advisor and Director of Jerusalem Culture Unlimited (JCU), and I met with the new director of the Albright Institute for Archaeology in East Jerusalem - a peaceful haven within the bustle of the city. The Albright Institute hosts archaeologists from around the world and is the base of a Palestinian artists' residency which JCU sponsors . We've been discussing ways to collaborate more closely.

It really was an amazing visit. Over the course of 5 days I met with at least a dozen organizational leaders, all of whom are very interested in participating in hosting international Fellows in 2024.

I WANT TO SUPPORT INTERNATIONAL ARTISTS IN JERUSALEM

CATAMON Dance Group Artistic Director Elad Schechter, Mexican Filmmaker Alexander Daum and 2022 Fellow, Choreographer Claudia Lavista.

A little more news - some interesting info - and many more links!

Last year's Fellows spoke eloquently about their experiences in Jerusalem a few weeks ago on Zoom. It was a wonderful "reunion." You can listen to them on the recording here.

Our Alum from 2010 - 13 continue to do amazing things. Here are some updates:

Urban Planner Josh Sirefman (Fellows 2010) became CEO of Michigan Central Innovation in February and is working in Detroit.

Choreographer Reggie Wilson (Fellow 2010) premiered POWER at BAM this year. It will be on tour in 2023.

Printmaker Lynne Avadenka (Fellow 2011) has an exhibit opening at JTS <http://www.jtsa.edu/event/the-work-of-her-hands-the-art-of-lynne-avadenka/>

Director David Herskovits (Fellow 2011) continues to shake things up at Target Margin Theater in Sunset Park, Bkln.

Daylight Architect Davidson Norris (Fellow 2013) is working on a series of custom sundials.

Diane Samuels tells the story of Alphabets at City of Asylum in Pittsburgh, the organization which provides sanctuary for artists in exile she started with her husband, Henry Reese.

We will continue to upload photos, videos, and reflections from our Fellows. You can also enjoy photos and videos on our Instagram @jerusaleminternationalfellows.

All of the press we have received can be found here.

You can read the full evaluation of the program by On Track Consulting here.

We welcome your questions and comments and look forward to telling and showing you more about our Fellows as their connections unfold.

Abundant thanks to all of you who have helped realize this program.

Best wishes,

Elise and the JIF team
